Did you know that 45% of students in Oklahoma have NO access to arts education? Through a collaborative effort between the Oklahoma Arts Council, the state Department of Education, Oklahomans for the Arts, and the Kirkpatrick Family fund, the Oklahoma Arts Education Data Project Dashboard allows education stakeholders to identify where arts education is lacking in Oklahoma so as to provide better advocacy for Oklahoma students.

Oklahomans for the Arts

Introduces the Oklahoma Arts Education Data Project Dashboard

“Creating schools that work for everyone is our mission. The more schools we add to the network, the more students in Oklahoma will have access to an education integrated with arts, creativity and innovation, which instills critical thinking skills needed for success in their adult world.”--Rosalynn Wade, Program Director OKA+ School Institute

“The training provided by OKA+ will help staff consider new ideas and give them additional skills in engaging students. This engagement will help students gain academic and social skills.”--Cristel Miller, Principal St. John Catholic School

Destiny is OKA+’s brand-new administrative specialist! She joined our staff in early May and is quickly growing into her new position with the Institute. As our administrative specialist she helps us to process paperwork, order supplies for our events and Boeing STEAM work, and conduct other "behind-the-scenes" business.

Originally from Enid, OK, Destiny graduated from UCO with a degree in physical education and has lived in the OKC metro since. She taught at Webster Middle School in Oklahoma City for two years before hearing about OKA+ and deciding to apply to join our staff.

Destiny has jumped right into her new role, bringing fresh ideas and enthusiasm to our organization.

A proud adoptee who recently celebrated her adoption anniversary on May 19th, she has four siblings, a cat named Simba, and is an active member of Crossings Community Church in Oklahoma City.

Destiny has been a wonderful addition to the Institute. Be sure to say hello to her at Not Your Average Conference or other OKA+ functions!
